

Personalized Finish Terms

Vanguard offers a broad range of styles consisting of several diverse types of wood species. While we do not limit the species that are available for Personalized Finishes, we do recommend using some finishes over others for certain types of wood species. Please refer to the following matrix for our recommended wood species and finish techniques for each personalized finish option.

PCF Pre-catalyzed lacquer is standard on all Vanguard domestic Personalized Finishes. Vanguard Furniture reserves the right to deny any claim resulting from a deviation from our recommended wood species and finish techniques.

A finish must now be selected when ordering, as a standard finish is no longer assigned per style.

Finish Terms
Artisan Finishes	Artisan Finishes feature a superior depth and clarity achieved through multiple finish steps and meticulous hand-work. Each Artisan Finish features a waxy, hand-rubbed, durable, pre-catalyzed formula to ensure that the luxurious, silky hand will endure the test of time.
Grain Characteristics	Closed grain woods, like maple, tend to have a smooth texture and wear finishes more evenly. Painted finishes on closed grained woods hide most of the grain pattern. In contrast, open grained woods, like oak, have a more dimensional texture allowing for the hang-up of finishes to highlight the grain pattern. Painted finishes do not typically conceal the full grain pattern of the open grained woods which allows the grain pattern to be visible beneath the finish. Naturally occurring variations in grain patterns cannot be avoided and add the beauty of finished wood.
Metallic Paint Finishes	Metallic Paint Finishes feature metal pigment or metallic flakes that add luster and sparkle to the finish and also serve to accentuate furniture contours.
Paint Finishes	Paint Finishes will have consistent color results, regardless of wood species selected.
Physical Distressing	Physical Distressing provides character and age for finishes designed to have an antique, worn look. The technique is achieved by striking the wood with items such as a chain, rasp, or stone to add dimension to the finish.
Premium Leaf Finishes	Premium Leaf Finishes are created by hand-applying thin sheets of metallic leaf over the wood. A glaze is then added to reflect a soft, metallic glow.
Sheen	Sheen is achieved with several coats of lacquer that are applied and sanded to a smooth final finish. The lacquer can either be a low, medium or high sheen level.
Stain Finishes	Wood Stain Finishes utilize stains to penetrate the wood and grain. Thus, wood species and grain patterns selected can cause actual wood finishes to vary from species to species.
Wood Species	Wood Species is the type of fine wood that is the basis of any finish. Each wood species has characteristic grain patterns which are a key determinant in the final finish.
